

TABLES The tables have a steel frame with chrome-plated finish cone-shaped legs measuring 60 mm in diameter. A joint allows their connection with the perimeter bars, made of the aluminium-finish tubular steel and measuring 50x30 mm. The tops are available in oak and wengè finishes, in a thickness of 30 mm, or in sanded glass in a thickness of 15 mm. The legs rest on chrome-plated adjustable feet with a diameter of 80 mm. There are tables which can be connected to the service units (these replace a leg) and tables with coplanar extension, and these too can be connected to the service units in various sizes and types. A front panel, available in oak and wengè finishes can also be applied to the tables and a basket is available for holding IT and electric cables, which run downwards through a flexible vertebra applied to the basket itself or directly under the table-top. Available in various types and sizes, the meeting tables are elliptically shaped and can be extended to any length using terminal tops and central extension.

SERVICE UNITS The various types and sizes of service units are independent and set on wheels or can be connected to the tables and coplanar extensions using a joint which allows their rotation. From the single drawer unit with three drawers, to multiple compartments closed by doors or left open, the service units can be accessorised to contain anything from the central unit to the printer, appropriately set on a sliding shelf for ease of use. The structure of the containers is made of wood agglomerate with an aluminium finish, while the perimeter trim (shoulders and tops) is available in oak and wengè finishes.

CONTAINERS All the containers have a structure made of wood agglomerate with an aluminium finish and chrome-plated steel levelling feet, like those on the table. Four freely modular and connecting heights are available. Around the perimeter of the bookcase it is possible to fit tops, under-bases and terminal shoulders which complete the whole composition in oak or wengè finishes. Transparent doors are available with an aluminium perimeter frame and tempered glass. The interior are accessorised with metal shelves which can be spaced at intervals of 32 mm, with practical sliding folder frames available in an aluminium finish as optional accessories.
